Thanks to the platform inside the Box della Salute, certified as a class Ila medical device, it is possible to connect with the doctor remotely, even from aircraft, ships and trains, taking advantage of an immediate consultation as well as a valid report in compliance of the privacy legislation thanks to a real-time, fast and secure transmission of data.

The marketing and distribution of the Box della Salute, of which WM Capital is the exclusive agent for Italy, could benefit from the innovation brought about by the new mobile solution. Pending market feedback, the Company is unable to estimate any significant impacts on its financial statements to date.

Fabio Pasquali, Amministratore delegato di WM Capital S.p.A., declares: “The new field of applicability of the Box della Salute allows us to commercially explore new markets in Italy that typically do not have adequate healthcare facilities and are therefore lacking in specialized personnel. The Box della Salute thus becomes a real mobile clinic capable of providing health care even in sites and situations till now unimagined. All this also taking advantage of the ability, offered by the integrated medical software and the powerful mobile connections available, to make doctors and specialists interact remotely, which in addition to reporting and teleconsultation are able to provide further support to the user in the use of services”.
